

Methodological Note

At the beginning of the initiative, several consultations were held between the Transparency International Office in Brussels and many European chapters of the Transparency International network. In these consultations, the following was established:

- I. The final text of the integrity pledge, which every chapter involved in the initiative translated in the language of his country.
- II. Pledge target – the pledges were sent to both political parties, so that they disseminate them to their candidates, and to individual candidates. Each chapter involved had the option to choose the method best suited to the situation of his country.
- III. How to launch the initiative – chapters could choose between a press release and a press conference, depending on the particular situation of each of them.
- IV. How to disseminate pledges - they were sent by email or by regular mail at the addresses disclosed on the official websites of parties in the electoral race.
- V. How to publish signed pledges - a platform dedicated to this initiative was created, where all signed pledges from countries took part in this initiative were collected. In addition, all chapters involved had the option to create their own website in which to publish the signed pledges of their country's candidates, as well as to publish the pledges on their own website..

Commitments were written in the languages of the Member States to be brought to the attention of the general public.
